MARCH 2024

Message from the Dean

DR. MARY FARMER-KAISER

It's almost here! Grad Student Appreciation Week is at the end of the month and, in my book, there's no better way than GSAW to lead into Spring Break.

But we have to get through March first, and March is always a packed month! Classes, research, and writing remain, and there are conferences, deadlines, and more that fill our already-full calendars. I know I am not alone when I wonder how to better manage the competing priorities. It all matters so much.

Last month, I received a gift when I attended the 125th Academic Lecture Series hosted by the College of Nursing and Health Sciences on February 5. Little did I know when I headed over to the new Moncus Hall just how much I needed the message offered that evening by Dr. Amelie Hollier in her talk, "The Great 8: Life Lessons from a Seasoned NP." Allow me to share with you her "Great 8" lessons. They really resonated with me.

1. Try to curtail multitasking.
2. Learn something new everyday.
3. Operate from the inside out.
4. Have some daytime dreams.
5. Guard and protect your work=life balance.
6. Build healthy bones. (These bones, she reminded us, include the funny bone.)
7. Identify and focus on your BIG ROCKS. (These are your mission=critical priorities. Everything else has to be the sand that can fit in and around the big rocks.)
8. Be generous.

Embrace a lesson and have a great March!
Dr. MFK

Upcoming Events in March

Mondays - Wake Up and Write!

Every Monday morning when the University is open, grad students and faculty write, read, and think at the Alumni Center Board Room from 8:30-10:30 a.m. The Grad School provides coffee, breakfast treats, and quiet. You provide the focus and progress. Parking is easy. No registration is required.

3/6 - Money Matters Lunch & Learn: Taxes in Grad School

Join us Wednesday 3/6 for lunch and a chance to talk about getting ready for Tax season. This workshop will focus on understanding how to think about and approach taxes while in grad school. Registration is required.

3/6 - Spring Student Workshop for Manuscript Submission and Review

Students! Join us online on Wednesday 3/6 from 4-5 p.m. to hear from our editing team on topics including the updated Guidelines, formatting, manuscript embargoes, common issues, and the final review and approval process. Whether you're finishing this Spring or just starting, this workshop is for you! Register to get the Zoom link.

3/7 - Spring Faculty Workshop for Manuscript Submission and Review

Faculty! Join us online on Thursday 3/7 from 4-5 p.m. to ensure you are up to date on the Guidelines and manuscript submission processes. We'll walk you through final manuscript review and approval procedures and answer questions about best practices for guiding your graduating students through this last step. Register to get the Zoom link.

3/8 - Sustainable Development Faculty Research Summit

Join us on Friday 3/8 from 9 am to 2 pm at the LITE Center as 19 faculty presenters deliver brief, impactful pitches about sustainability-related research.

3/12 - Lunch & Learn: Developing a Daily Writing Practice + NCFDD

Join our graduate faculty panel on Tuesday 3/12 to learn about how they stay committed to a daily writing practice. We'll also talk about how to make the most of the resources available through NCFDD to build the writing habits you need as a grad student. Lunch is served at 11:30 am. Registration is required.

3/16 - The Big Event with GSO

Grad students have joined the Big Event to do their part for UL Lafayette's largest day of service! We're teaming up with the Graduate Student Organization on Saturday 3/16 to lead an on-campus beautification project with Parish Proud.

3/18 - 3/22 - Graduate Student Appreciation Week.

See page 4 for a complete list of GSAW events that celebrate grad education.

3/20 - Money Matters Lunch & Learn: Entrepreneurship

Join us on Wednesday 3/20 for lunch as we cultivate an entrepreneurial mindset for success during grad school and beyond. Registration is required.
