

9 PM

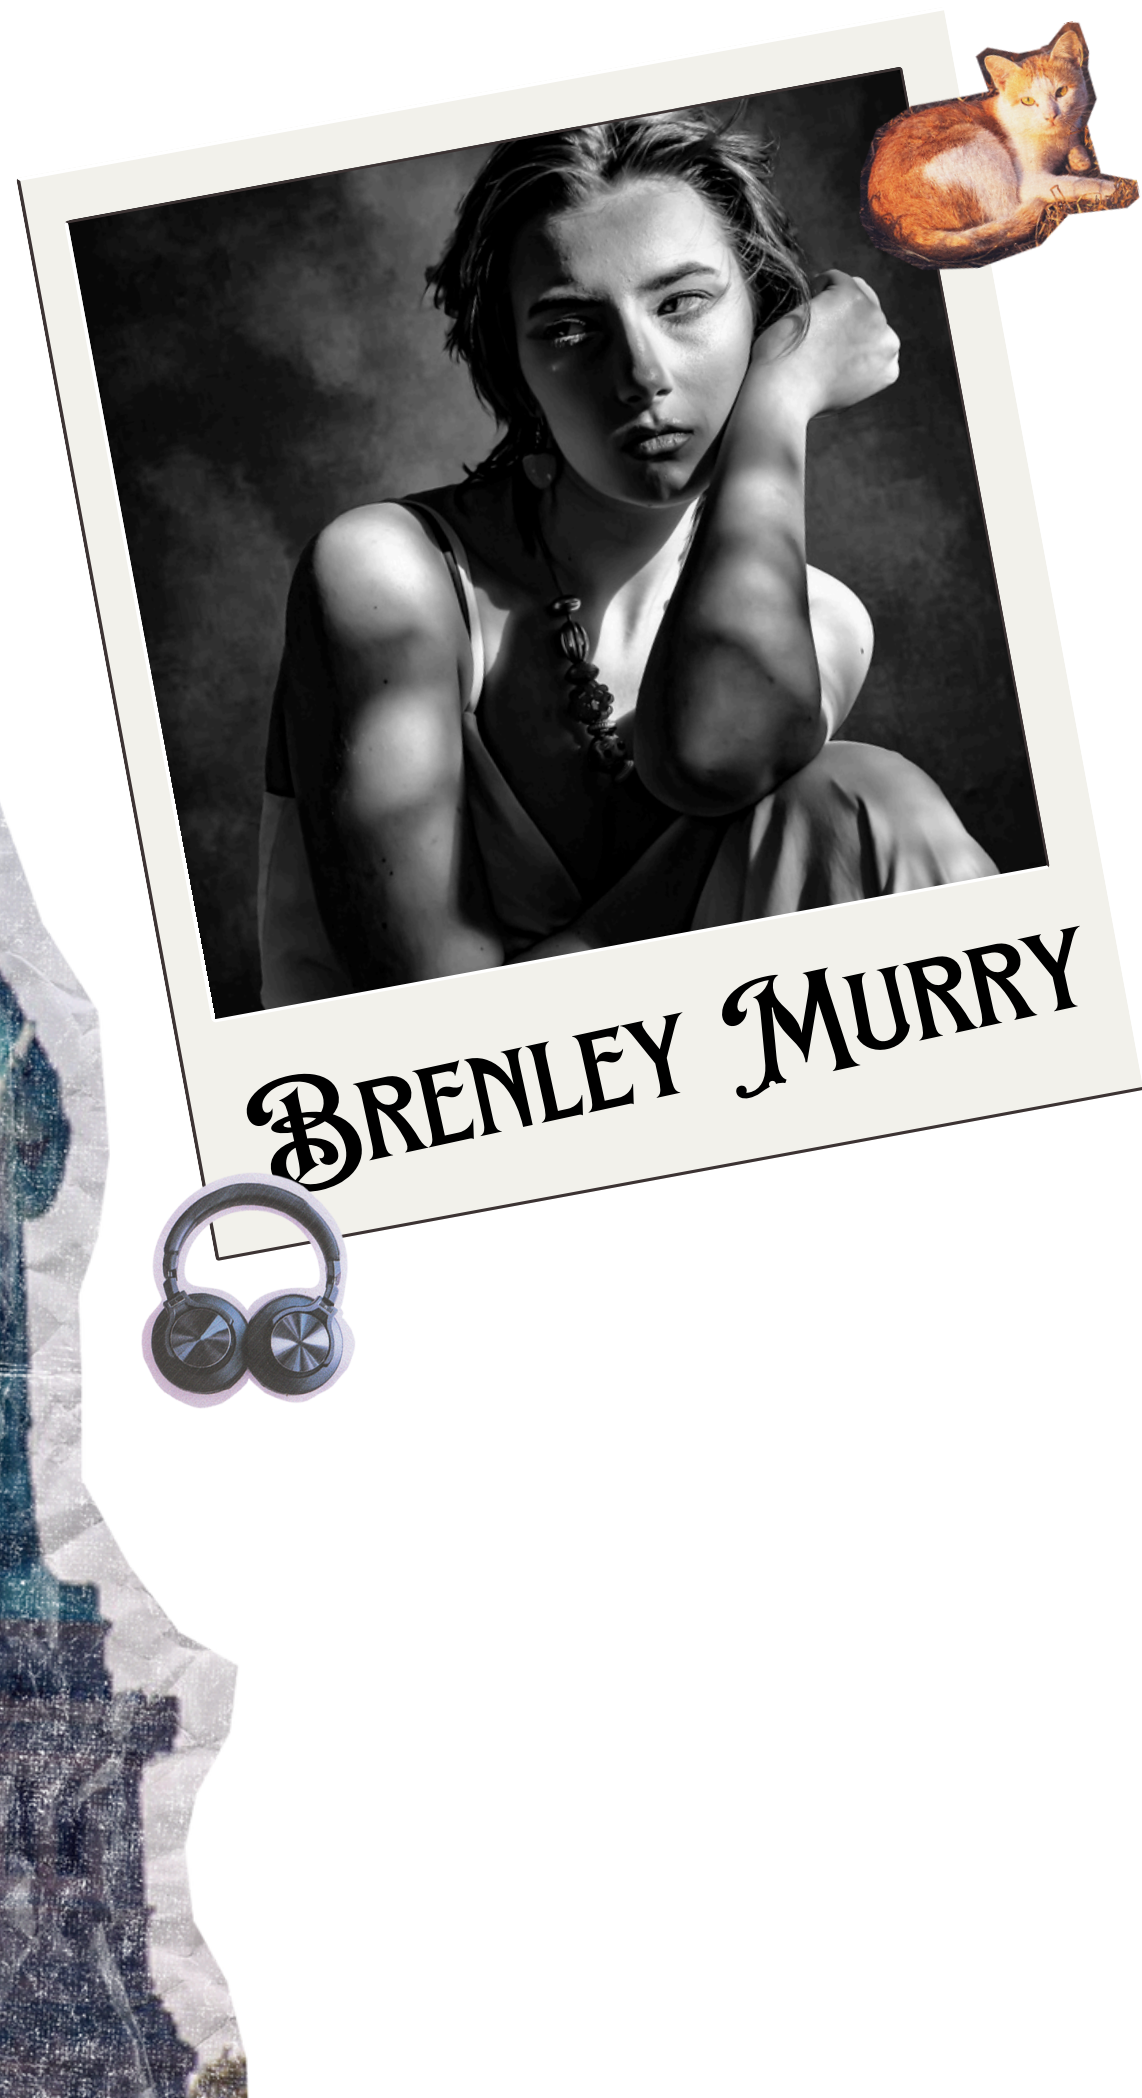

11:59

Sometimes you need to scream.

First year experience at UL

Brenley Murry

BRENLEY MURRY

i About the Author

Brenley is a recent graduate from the Louisiana School for Math Science and the Arts from Walker, LA and a current undergraduate student at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette. She is a Pre-Allied Health Biology Major and plans to graduate with a B.S in Biology and head straight to graduate school for Optometry. She is the freshman representee on the UL Pre-Professional Society and whilst perusing medicine Brenley currently works in Marketing as a team leader and as an internal operations assistant. Brenley has a history in video/film SPFX and has recently had a film titled, "JANUS 3.1" premier overseas in Denmark. Brenley also works in Voice Over and continues to do freelance V.O work in both audiobooks and commercials. She enjoys Music and collects vinyl's regularly. She will be competing with the UL chamber singers abroad in the Netherlands spring of 2025.

SUMMARY

Sometimes you just need to let it all out! Scream! Shout! Curious about how to stay afloat whilst being a chronic overachiever? Look no further than this novel, titled "11:59" as a nod to the horrendous number students expect to turn in every tedious assignment on Moodle. From Spotify playlists to exams that are bombed, the first year is a new boat for everyone and sometimes if you're lucky you get to have a paddle! Especially if you attend UL, because rainboots are not enough to get to class in the hurricane season. What's it like being an adult with the same interests as your middle school self? When does adulating start and do adults really have it figured out? Find out!

